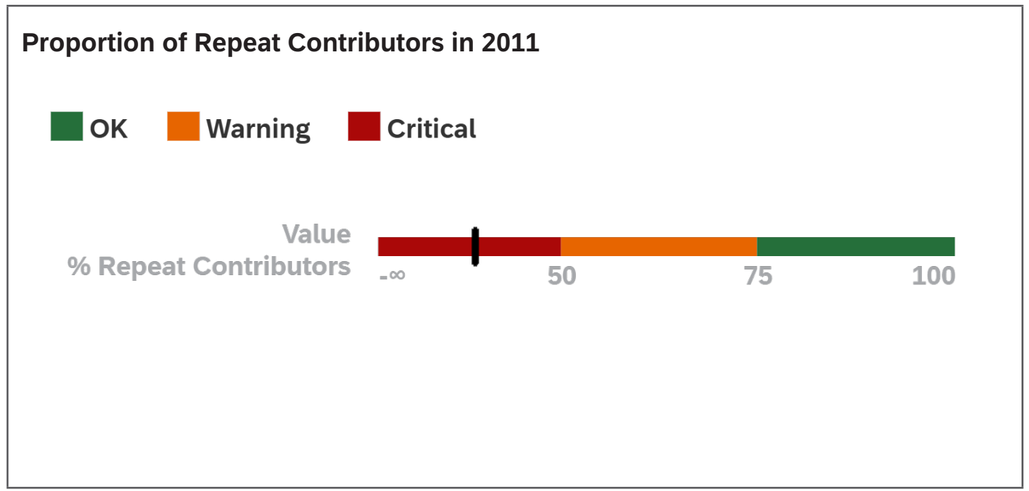
Q5: Analysis of Number and Percentage of Repeat Contributors and New Contributors in 2011



Financial Analysis

- The bullet chart indicates the percentage of repeat contributors in 2011.
- The percentage falls in the "Critical" zone (below 50%), signaling a low contributor retention rate.
- A large portion of contributors in 2011 were new donors, suggesting reliance on new outreach rather than sustained relationships.
- Donor loyalty appears weak, which could impact long-term fundraising stability.

- Recommendation: Focus on donor retention strategies, such as personalized follow-ups, donor recognition programs, and engagement campaigns. Improving repeat contributor rates will enhance sustainability and reduce dependence on acquiring new donors each year.

Q5_Contributor_Repeat_Analysis

Measures	Value
	108.13